Investment Objective and Strategies

The Evolve US Banks Enhanced Yield ETF (the "Fund") seeks to replicate, to the extent reasonably possible before fees and expenses, the performance of the Solactive Equal Weight US Bank Index Canadian Dollar Hedged (the "Benchmark"), or any successor thereto, while mitigating downside risk. The Fund invests primarily in the equity constituents of the Solactive Equal Weight US Bank Index Canadian Dollar Hedged, or any successor thereto, while writing covered call options on up to 33% of the portfolio securities, at the discretion of the Manager. The level of covered call option writing may vary based on market volatility and other factors.

Risk

There were no changes to the Fund over the period of this report that materially affected the level of risk associated with an investment in the Fund. Prospective investors should read the Fund's most recent prospectus and consider the description of risks contained therein.

Results of Operations

For the year ended December 31, 2018, the non-hedged units returned -11.21% versus the Solactive Equal Weight US Bank Index return of -11.35%. The hedged units returned -18.53% versus the Solactive Equal Weight US Bank Index Canadian Dollar Hedged return of -19.45%. The difference in performance of the hedged units relative to its benchmark can be attributed primarily to management fees plus applicable sales taxes and to portfolio trading and hedging strategies. The difference in performance of the non-hedged units relative to its benchmark can be attributed primarily to management fees plus applicable sales taxes and to portfolio trading. Furthermore, the difference can also be attributed to the implementation of the call writing strategy where the Fund tend to outperform in flat or down markets and underperform during sharp market advances. This performance difference can be seen over the period the calls are written, typically with one to two months to expiry, and then resets when new option positions are established. Fund's net assets were $3.085MM as at December 31, 2018.

Portfolio Manager Commentary

In spite of a decline in the corporate tax rate and higher interest rates, which are typically catalysts for the banking industry, US banks on average did not perform as well in 2018, compared to the two previous years. Though earnings remained relatively healthy, the market had apparently already priced in the impact of tax and interest rate changes. In addition, huge market swings throughout the year, accompanied by record levels of volatility, weighed heavily on the performance of bank stocks.

Notwithstanding, banks have remained adequately capitalized and there were no threats of failure during the year. Their outlook remained favorable on the back of strong economic fundamentals, a favorable regulatory climate, and access to innovative technologies which will increase their efficiency and lower their operating costs.

The top performing stock in the fund for the year was JP Morgan Chase & Co., followed by the retail bank, BB&T Corporation.

Recent Developments

There are no known changes at this time to the investment strategy of the Fund or the Manager.
